Ever since I was little my parents put me in the pee wee softball team.	Every game I would end up hurt. One day I broke my arm, then the next month I broke my ankle.	I laid down in the hospital bed.	My parents brought me a softball “get well soon” balloon.

They asked me if I needed anything and I said “No, but I need to join another sport”.	They got all nervous and left the hospital room.	The balloon stared at me with its evil eyes. Taunting me .	The balloon had millions of voices that called out “Get well soon. Just kidding, see you next month”.
long shot video of me holding balls used for different sports and I throw them.	long shot of 2 people leaving a room	stop motion of me drawing on eyes onto the balloon. medium shot	long shot of the balloon floating in a lonely place.

I got up and popped the balloon. I do not like softball, and I’ve never liked it.	As I got older, my bones kept breaking.	I not only got hurt physically but emotionally. A year after hurting my ankle, I decided that it wasn’t worth getting hurt.	I went through a mental breakdown. I said to myself “the scars aren’t worth it.” I told my parents that I did not enjoy playing softball.

So I quit, and became an artist. My painting's sold for $1,000. I loved art and I continued painting for the rest of my life. I actually found something I enjoyed.	I spent so much time doing something I didn't enjoy, but now I finally found my place.

I was always pushed around as a kid “You look funny, you wear different clothes, you sound gay”, -	so I adapted to the latest trends and looks.
Have a shot of some kid being pushed around	- a rearview close up shot of this kid in a closet

A new phone came out?	I had it, along with everyone else in my class.	Every single person in the world had one.	Jeans were out of fashion and sweatpants were the norm?I had 'em.
- A close shot of someone with an iPhone?	wide shot of people texting, gaming, etc; on phones	text animation	- Show jeans being folded up, show sweatpants being bought
